

New 'Hotel for Kids' Package Kick-Off Storytelling & Pajama Party

It's all about cozy footie pajamas, steaming mugs of hot chocolate and bedtime stories at Hotel Commonwealth's pajama party to kick off the new family-friendly 'Hotel for Kids' package.

On Friday, February 19, 2010 – the last Friday of February school vacation – Hotel Commonwealth invites families to experience the ultimate Staycation weekend with a night of literary adventures featuring ReadBoston storytellers. Professional performers and storytellers from Mayor Menino's literacy initiative will delight children of all ages with their live performances and storytelling in one of the hotel's comfortable special event spaces. Afterwards, kids can enjoy a make-your-own hot chocolate bar featuring various types of hot cocoa and toppings, while parents shop a library of ReadBoston children's books from local authors.

Bedtime Stories Pajama Party

Hotel Commonwealth
500 Commonwealth Avenue
Boston, MA 02215

Friday, February 19, 2010
7:00 – 8:30 pm

$10 suggested donation per family

The hotel will match each donation from the night, with all proceeds going to ReadBoston

To RSVP to the Bedtime Stories Pajama Party, call 617-532-5017 or email HotelForKids@HotelCommonwealth.com

Families can make a night of it by booking the just-announced 'Hotel for Kids' overnight package at a special opening rate of $219 on Friday, February 19, 2010. This one-time-only rate includes a special Saturday morning kids' pancake-making class with Executive Chef Jeremy Sewall of Eastern Standard Kitchen & Drinks on Saturday, February 20, 2010. For overnight reservations, please call 866.784.4000.